

On The Other Islands

Three Children Drown At Hilo—Tomoya, Iwako and Ichiro Hirata, three Japanese children, aged 12, 8 and 6 years respectively, were drowned in the Wailuku river, in the pool mauka of the Hilo Electric Works on Thursday of last week. According to the story of other children, the 6 year old boy became exhausted in trying to swim the pool, and his sisters went to his rescue. The frantic child not only prevented assistance being rendered but dragged his sisters to death with him. All are said to have been able to swim.

Pineapple Land Rents High—A tract of 80 acres of land between Palolo and Manoa valleys, Honolulu, owned by the Bishop Estate, brought $24 per acre per annum for a 15-year lease when the property was offered at auction sale last Saturday. A lease for 150 acres at Waiialea, just east of Kaimuki, brought $28 rental per acre. In each case the lease pays taxes and other charges against the property. Both tracts are to be planted to pineapples.

Welfare Drive On Hawaii—A drive to raise $50,000 for the support of various forms of welfare work on the Island of Hawaii started in Hilo on Monday of this week. E. A. Corey is campaign director.

Kauai Breakwater Seems Sure—The Kauai chamber of commerce has been advised that the federal authorities have approved the plans for railroad connection with the harbor or Nawiliwili harbor and that the federal appropriation for a breakwater will be available as soon as the territorial appropriation of $200,000 is in hand. This will not be for another year, however, as the money must come from next year's bond sale.

Former Island Editor Missing—The Hilo Post-Herald reprints a newspaper account from Des Moines, Ia., to the effect that E. B. Bridgewater, formerly editor of the Kauai Garden Island, and later editor of a paper in Hilo, had wandered from a Des Moines hospital on June 3, suffering from an aphasia, or lapse of memory, and at the date of writing had been missing for 16 days. Bridgewater left Hawaii early in the war and went to France with the allies' forces. He sustained serious injuries which are supposed to account for his condition.

Kohala Rabbits Sell—Kohala rabbits are being featured at present in the municipal market. Rabbit meat brings 25 cents a pound.

McCarthy Fighting Journalist—Governor C. J. McCarthy has received news that he had been elected a reserve member of the fighting journalists of the A. E. F. The body is composed of writers of articles who saw active service during the war. Its headquarters is in New Orleans.

San Carlos Pays Extra—San Carlos declared an extra dividend of 10 per cent payable July 9; the regular 4 per cent dividend is payable on July 15.

Work Discontinued—W. S. Althouse engineer in charge of the building of the general petroleum station here, received orders from California to discontinue the work, owing to the uncertainty of conditions prevailing among petroleum interests at the present time.

New Trial Asked in Afong—Albert Afong, through his attorneys, has filed a motion for a new trial of the contest of the will of the late Mrs. Julia Afong with a view of having the verdict that his mother was unduly influenced set aside.

Leprosy Being Conquered—Officials of the Board of Health last week announced that it is not expected any inmates of the Kalahele receiving station will be sent to Kalaupapa this year. This announcement is considered to be a sign that leprosy, which has been decreasing the past two years, is being slowly conquered. The commissioners also approved the recommendations of medical examiners that 30 of the patients be paroled to their homes.

Atones By Kissing Flag—Erasmus Pushkarsky, who was sentenced in Honolulu last January to a term of one year in jail on the charge of insulting the American flag, was given his liberty when he apologized and kissed the flag.

Refuses To Disbar—In an opinion handed down last week, the Territorial Supreme court holds that the facts charged in the petition to disbar Pablo Manlapit, Filipino labor leader, from practice in the District Courts were insufficient for such action. Manlapit was charged with an attempt to solicit a bribe during the recent plantation strike. Chief Justice Coke, in a dissenting opinion, held that the facts were sufficient to warrant such action.

Killed By Bandit In St. Paul—Stacey H. Chaney, former Honolulu man, was shot and killed by a highwayman in St. Paul, Minnesota, on Saturday, July 3, according to advices received by his mother, Mrs. Caroline Bode, of Honolulu.

Admiral Fletcher Sails—Rear Admiral W. B. Fletcher, hitherto in command of the naval station at Pearl Harbor, left Honolulu on the Manoa last week en route to his new post at Rio de Janeiro.

Mrs. Wm. Horner Dies—Advices from the mainland last week report that Mrs. William Horner, widow of the former manager of Kukuhaele plantation, on the Island of Hawaii, died in Oakland on Tuesday, July 6, at the age of 70 years.

Tourist Outlook Good—Managers of Honolulu hotels look for a big tourist season in 1920-1921, the Young and Moana hotels reporting heavy advance bookings up to date next winter while the Seaside reports bookings as far as October, 1921.

More Leprosy Cure Needed—The Territorial Board of Health plans to ask the legislature for liberal appropriations to permit the production of larger quantities of chaulmoogra oil for treatment of leprosy by the method perfected by Dr. A. L. Dean of University of Hawaii. The Surgeon General of the United States has written local officials asking that this specific be produced in larger quantities so that it may be used on the mainland as well as in Hawaii.

Wheeler Quitting Job—County Engineer A. C. Wheeler of Hawaii, will remain in office until the end of this month and then will relinquish his position to his successor who, by that time will have been appointed. Rumors have connected the names of A. Burdick, A. S. Gripper and several others as possible successors of Wheeler. The county engineer resigned because of alleged interference on the part of supervisors with the conduct of his office.

New Japanese Consul—C. Y. Ada, new Japanese Consul General, arrived in Honolulu last Friday. He said he hoped to settle any existing differences between capital and the Japanese laborers. He also urged that a delegation of Hawaiian business men visit Japan this year to discuss mutual problems with their Japanese associates.

Dr. Ruth McKellar Divorced—After two years of bitter fighting, Judge J. T. De Bolt, second judge of the Circuit Court, last Friday granted an absolute divorce to Dr. Ruth McKellar. Dr. McKellar sued her husband, Major McKellar for divorce on the ground of non-support. The major contested the suit bitterly. Dr. McKellar who recently resigned from the board of health will return to the mainland.

The One-Room School In Rural Hawaii

(By Vaughan MacCaughy)

The one-room, one-teacher school in rural Hawaii, as in all other rural regions, is the most expensive and least satisfactory type of school. It is physically, and pedagogically impossible for one teacher to teach satisfactorily four or five or more grades.

The one-room school, with an enrollment of twenty pupils, more or less, requires land, buildings, cottage, water supply, supervision, etc. The unit cost is far greater than if the pupils were part of a large graded school. By consolidating several small schools at one central point, then erecting a modern graded school, and transporting the pupils at public expense, the taxpayers in many rural regions have found that there occurred not only a marked financial saving, but also a noteworthy improvement in school work.

In many of Hawaii's smaller rural communities, the one, two and three-room schools are doing good work. The teacher, in many instances, are devoted and conscientious. After they are working with inadequate equipment and obsolete materials as transportation facilities, in case of number and efficiency, the usefulness of these smaller schools can be increased, in many localities, by judicious consolidation. The public school house is the logical community center. With illumination, movable seats, and other facilities, it could be effectively used for community gatherings. Experience in many mainland regions shows that the consolidated school quickens the interest of pupils, teachers and community. It means better education.

A Posthumous Degree of bachelor of arts has been awarded to David Little Withington, Jr., by the Harvard University. Young Withington died of pneumonia while on his way to an army training camp from Harvard.
